RESISTANCE TO CORROSION

Stainless steel contains the addition of chromium, which prevents iron oxidation and rust formation. Stainless steel is also resistant to acids, alkalis and salts.

HIGH LEVEL OF HYGIENE - EASY CARE

The profiles have a smooth, glossy and non-porous surface that does not absorb moisture or dirt and can be easily disinfected. It is an ideal material for places with high hygiene requirements, e.g. in kitchens, rooms exposed to moisture, in hospitals, laboratories and production rooms.

STRENGTH AND IMPACT RESISTANCE

Stainless steel is a material that is very resistant to impact and mechanical damage. Profiles made of it are resistant to both low and high temperatures. Steel products are easy to process.

GOOD AESTHETICS

Steel profiles have an elegant and modern look that will match many styles and designs. They combine functionality and elegance, highlighting the modern character of both interiors and facades. They are easy to install and keep clean, which further increases their attractiveness.

ECOLOGY

Stainless steel profiles are environmentally friendly, as they are 100% recyclable and do not lose their properties in the reprocessing process.
